May 22, 2018

00:00

today let's remember those warriors who

00:06

stood beside us today let's remember we

00:13

carry their sores

00:21

[Music]

00:34

we thank you God for the lives of those 00:37

we remember in honor today they fought a

00:40

battle that is long and difficult and an

00:43

enemy that is relentless evil and

00:45

destructive Baba I want to thank the men

00:48

and women of DEA their families those 00:51

who served yesterday and those who

00:57

we are gathered here to pay special

00:59

tribute to the 84 DEA Special Agents

01:04

investigators detectors technicians

01:06

dispatchers and assistants who have

01:09

given their lives in order to protect

01:11

our fellow citizens we are blessed to 01:14

have some of their families and friends

01:16

with us today the lives of those that we

01:20

are here to celebrate today all share

01:22

the same thread they had chosen the same

01:25

way we did this morning to be part of 01:27

something bigger than themselves that

01:30

mindset is noble last Friday we added 45

01:34

new special agents into our ranks and I

01:37

recognize that even without the reminder

01:40

that comes from that thunderous voice of 01:42

Kevin Donnelly dressed in his best black

01:44

and gold attire we have now marched this

01:47

new group up to and into the line to all

01:51

of our current employees to all of our 01:53

law enforcement colleagues we always

01:55

wish for one thing more than anything

01:57

else safe homes finally to the families

02:02

of those that have lost thank you for 02:04

sharing those you cherished all of them

02:07

made us better for the time we shared

02:10

surely inevitably
